

SEVEN MORE GOOD FARES.

Have Arrived at Fulton Dock
Since Friday Afternoon.

ONE TRIP 80 BARRELS TINKERS.

Three Netters Also Arrive with Large Fish.

Seven seining arrivals with 700 barrels of medium mackerel and 80 barrels of tinkers and four netting arrivals with 32 barrels of large mackerel in the record at New York, since Friday noon. The appearance of the tinkers is taken as a good sign by those posted on mackerel and their movements.

A special to TIMES Friday afternoon reports the arrival at Fulton dock, New York, of the sch. Dreadnaught, Capt. Edward Dunton, with 100 barrels of fresh medium mackerel. The same despatch also reported the arrival of sch. Lottie G. Merchant, Capt. Christopher Carrigan, with 175 barrels of fresh mackerel, 14,000 fish in count.

A later despatch Friday evening reported the arrival of the sch. Norumbega, Capt. John McKinnon, with 100 barrels of fresh mackerel.

The same dispatch also reported the arrival of the mackerel netting sch. Angelen, Capt. Samuel Joseph, with 900 large fish and the netter Wm. B. Keen, Capt. John McKinnon, with 150 large fish.

Dispatches received Patriots' Day by the TIMES from New York, reported the arrival at Fulton dock of the following:

Sch. Hiram Lowell, Capt. John Vautier 175 barrels of fresh medium mackerel.

Sch. Ruth Pember, 80 barrels of fresh tinker mackerel.

Sch. Ralph L. Hall, Capt. Frank H. Hall, 100 barrels fresh medium mackerel.

A special to the TIMES this morning reports the arrival at New York of sch. Priscilla Smith, Capt. William Corkum with 10,000 fresh medium mackerel.

The mackerel being landed count about 100 to an iced barrel and are somewhat larger than those first landed last year, which counted from 120 to 130 to an iced barrel.

A special to the TIMES this morning reports the arrival at Fulton dock of sch. Ida L. Miller from mackerel netting, with 1300 large fresh mackerel.

The recent arrivals at New York report seeing large bodies of fish, but in most cases the fish have acted wild, and until the exception of the big haul of sch. Hattie M. Graham, they have been unable to get around and hold any of the large schools. The fish landed have mostly been taken in latitude 37, about 45 miles off Cape Henry, although the fare of sch. Lena and Mand was taken 50 or 60 miles north of that.

A letter from one of the skippers of the seining fleet says that there are plenty of mackerel and in large schools but they are hard to catch. The fish are being taken both night and day time and the fleet are banging away constantly at them.

No fish were taken Tuesday and Wednesday, as the fleet at that time encountered a heavy easterly.

The gasoline auxiliary sch. Mary E. Harty is reported on the ways at Norfolk, Virginia.

Steam seiner Alice M. Jacobs, Capt. Solomon Jacobs, her owner, in command arrived at Wood's Hole on Friday on her maiden trip. Capt. Jacobs expressed delight with the showing made around the Cape, the seiner having averaged 11 knots per hour under steam. Her engines worked perfectly. The vessel took a fresh supply of water and sailed at once for the mackerel grounds.

Sch. J. E. Garland is fitting for seining under command of Capt. Pius McPhee.

Auxiliary sch. Dorcas sailed mackerel netting today.

BIG SIX MONTHS' STOCK.

New Sch. Lizzie M. Stanley Rolls
Up Over $16,000.

Crew Gets the Splendid Share of $372.40.

Sch. Lizzie M. Stanley, Capt. Joshua W. Stanley, which has been haddocking and is now shifting over to salt and fresh fishing, has done remarkably well since she was launched six months ago.

From the time she sailed on her maiden trip up to April 16, just six months, she has rolled up the splendid stock of $16,300.08, the crew making the fine share of $372.40.

This is one of the best six months' records made in the haddock fishery for some time and shows that Capt. Stanley is, as he has been for many years, a hustling skipper, blessed with plenty of courage and good judgment.

Halibut at Boston.

Schs. Pauline and Gloriana, with fares of halibut, are at Boston to-day.

FIRST SALT FARE.

Sch. Hattie L. Trask Has 90,000 Pounds Cod.

Sch. Hattie L. Trask, Capt. Ernest Rudolph, arrived Sunday from the Peak with the first salt bank fare of the season 90,000 pounds of cod, having been out but five weeks.

Capt. Rudolph, who is a son of Capt. Charles Rudolph of sch. J. Flaherty, is but 21 years old and is the youngest skipper of a salt banker from this port. This is his maiden trip and he has certainly made a fine beginning which augurs well for his future success.
